

EXPERIMENTA: RELAXED SCREENING

Illuminating the Wilderness

+ discussion with artists and makers from Project Art Works

Illuminating the Wilderness offers a window onto the experiences of a group of neurodiverse artists, filmmakers, families and carers as they explore Glen Affric in the Scottish Highlands. Artists Ben Rivers and Margaret Salmon join the journey, which charts the pleasures and challenges of neurodiverse responses to the landscape with humour and tenderness.

Our post-screening discussion will consider perceptions of 'wilderness', experimental form and cultural inclusion. Screening with short films from Project Art Works. Nominated for both The Jarman Award 2020 and The Turner Prize 2021, Project Art Works is a collective who work to increase representation of neuro-minorities in art and culture.

RELAXED SCREENINGS

Relaxed screenings are presented each month for those in the neurodiverse community and their carers and assistants.

Our relaxed screening adjustments include:

- Doors will open 30 minutes before the screening start time.
- No trailers will be shown.
- The programme will be introduced.
- Customers will be able to choose their own seats in the auditorium, but we will do our best to accommodate any specific seating requests.
- Our house lights will remain on a low level throughout the screening, and the volume will be turned slightly down.
- Please feel free to move around in the auditorium and make noise.
- There are two ushers in the auditorium.
- There will be a safe space for customers to use if they need to leave the auditorium.
- Please ask us if you need help.

BFI Southbank has been awarded the National Autistic Society's Autism Friendly Award.
